

Target Market Determination - Demand Deposit Account (Non-Individual customers)

This is the target market determination (TMD) for the purposes of section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) for the Demand Deposit Account (Product).

The issuer of the Product is Bank of China (Australia) Limited ABN 28 110 077 622 AFSL 287322 ACL 287 322 (Bank). This TMD sets out certain information relevant to the Bank's compliance with the design and distribution (DDO) framework in the Corporations Act, including the:

- class of consumers that makes up the target market for the Product;
- conditions that will be imposed on the distribution of the Product;
- requirements for the Bank to review the TMD; and
- requirements for distributors to report certain information to the Bank.

This TMD does not provide a complete list of the features and terms and conditions of the Product. This TMD should be read in conjunction with the Transaction and At Call Accounts Terms and Conditions, the Account Access Methods Terms and Conditions and the Schedule of Fees and Charges and other information available on the Bank's website in relation to the Product. A copy of these documents can be accessed on the Bank's website at www.bankofchina.com/au or from the Bank's retail branches in Australia during business hours (free of charge). If an application for the Product is approved, the particular Product will be governed by the Transactional and At Call Accounts Terms and Conditions.

This TMD has been prepared without taking into account any person's individual needs, objectives, or financial situation. If you are considering a Demand Deposit Account, we encourage you to understand how it may affect your personal circumstances and seek professional advice (such as, independent legal and financial advice).

Capitalised terms have the meaning given to them in the Transactional and At Call Accounts Terms and Conditions, unless otherwise defined.

Explanation of why the product is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of consumers in the target market

The Bank considers that the Product is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of customers in the target market because:

	• this Product is a deposit account that provides customers with the flexibility to undertake day to day transactions, withdraw on demand and to earn interest; • this Product enables customers to easily manage, access and transact on their account including through the use of internet banking; • the Product enables customers to earn interest; • this Product provides the ability for customers to transact in AUD, USD, CNY and HKD; and • this Product, as a deposit account, is low risk in nature.
Distribution Conditions	Distribution conditions This Product can only be distributed in branch (through one of the Bank's branches in Australia) by an employee of the Bank who is authorised to distribute this Product. This Product cannot be distributed through online channels or through third parties. Why the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it more likely that the consumers who acquire the product are in the target market The Bank considers that the distribution conditions mean that it is likely that customers who acquire the Product will be in the target market because: • the Bank's distribution channel for this Product is restricted to its branch network and is only able to be distributed by the Bank's employees who are authorised to distribute the Product; • authorised employees must be authorised by the Bank to distribute this Product and are required to complete relevant training in relation to the Product and the distribution of the Product; and • the Product is only made available to Non-Individual customers using consistent approval processes that allow the Bank the opportunity to check all applications before they are approved for consistency with the Bank's eligibility criteria for the Product.
Review Triggers	The review triggers that would reasonably suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate in relation to a Product include: • there are significant changes to the key attributes of the Product as described in this document that make it reasonable to conclude that it would no longer be consistent with the TMD; • there are significant changes to the methods of distribution of the Product that make it reasonable to conclude that the TMD does not reflect the actual distribution methods used by the Bank; • the rate of account closures or customers switching to other accounts offered by the Bank within 12 months of account opening exceeds 10% in any one year (except where explainable by external factors unrelated to product attributes or distribution arrangements); - the Bank identifies a significant dealing that it is required to report to ASIC (including where the bank identifies that the Product is being distributed without due care outside the target market to customers suffering from circumstances of vulnerability); - the number of customers making complaints in relation to their purchase or use of the Product in any year exceeds 5% of the total number of customers holding this Product; and - ASIC has utilised its product intervention power in Part 7.9A of the Corporations Act to intervene in relation to this product.

Review Periods	Next review date: Within 1 year from 28 February 2025. Periodic reviews: Within 3 years after the next review date and each subsequent review date after that.
Distribution Reporting Requirements	The following information must be provided to Bank of China (Australia) Limited by distributors who engage in retail product distribution conduct in relation to this Product: <table><tr><th>Type of information</th><th>Description</th><th>Reporting period</th></tr><tr><td>Complaints</td><td>Number of complaints, nature and substance of the complaint</td><td>Every 3 months within 10 business days from the end of the period.</td></tr><tr><td>Account closures/switching</td><td>Rate of account closures or customers switching accounts within 12 months of account opening</td><td>Every 3 months within 10 business days from the end of the period</td></tr><tr><td>Significant dealing(s) ¹</td><td>Date or date range of the significant dealing(s) and description of the significant dealing (eg, why it is not consistent with the TMD)</td><td>As soon as practicable, and in any case within 10 business days after becoming aware</td></tr></table>	Type of information	Description	Reporting period	Complaints	Number of complaints, nature and substance of the complaint	Every 3 months within 10 business days from the end of the period.
